Highlights:

- K2F has become a member of the SAP Partner Edge Program
 - Enhances the K2F sales and distribution strategy of partnering with world leading organisations
 - K2F is in the process of porting its leading edge Infoscope solution on to the SAP Cloud Platform (SCP) and S4 HANA

As previously announced, leading technology company K2fly Limited (ASX: K2F) has joined the SAP Partner program.

This is an exciting development as K2fly believes that joining the SAP ecosystem will provide both immediate cost benefits and long term strategic advantages to its growing list of industrial clients.

SAP's successful move to the SAP Cloud Platform has created opportunities for vendors such as K2fly in the asset intensive arenas.

As part of this Partnership, K2fly plans to work with SAP teams with a range of clients in the Resources and Utilities sectors. K2fly will deliver consultancy and implementation services in support of SAP's S4 HANA, and is building a business unit dedicated to support this Partnership.

Commenting on the partnership, K2fly CEO and Executive Chairman, Brian Miller stated,

"SAP has been acknowledged as a leader in this area and we are keen to collaborate and explore opportunities, especially within our existing Mining and Electricity Clients. We are currently porting our Infoscope product to run on the SAP Cloud Platform (SCP) and this will give us access to many of the world's largest mining and electricity companies. We also intend to port other owned software applications such as ADAM and Tagman to the SCP. This will enhance K2fly's strategy of building a portfolio of leading edge technologies which will deliver significant revenue growth in 2018 and beyond."
